Minstrels to Give Two Performances

Shows by St. Margaret's Organization Scheduled for Tuesday and Wednesday

PROCEEDS TO CHARITY

Resurging after a lapse of four years, St. Margaret's Minstrels boom forth next Tuesday and Wednesday evenings at the Parish Hall with their seventh presentation, described as the most ambitious of their notable career. If the advance sale of tickets is to be accepted as a harbinger, the attendance will outdistance that accorded any previous effort.

From the beginning, it is said, the troupe has been characterized by a great solidarity, as whilst every last man of them is a paterfamilias, with impressive progeny in most instances, still the time was always managed for the numerous rehearsals and this year's cast contains every player who was in the original company, except a few who have moved from the borough, and Michael Collins, who is quite too close to his delightful operation to make sport as is his accustomed way.

It is quite an unusual group, and no doubt about it as each minstrel does what he is asked to do with individual discretion altogether eliminated and the main issue brought to successful completion.

To the newcomers in Narberth who have not had the opportunity to look in on what is offered by an evening with the minstrels, let it be said that the admission and double thereof, shall be cheerfully refunded if there is not full agreement that the show is not worth a dime or two over the small one dollar asked for the ticket, and neither let it be overlooked how far a charity dollar will go these parlous days and how precious it shall be in relieving the distress which abounds hereabouts.

Came last time George Barton, the well known Philadelphia historian, to

School Board to Elect Officers December 7th

Routine business occupied the Narberth School Board at its regular meeting last Friday evening. It was reported that the auditorium furniture had arrived and that furnishings for the stage had been ordered.

Officers of the board will be elected at the organization meeting, to be held Monday, December 7. At that time Mrs. Edna Rinehart, of South Narberth Avenue, newly elected member, will take her seat, succeeding Mrs. F. T. Van Auken, the vice president, who was not a candidate for re-election.

Need $3000 More

With the United Campaign extended until Monday, approximately $3000 of Narberth's quota of $9100 remains to be collected. As "Our Town" went to press it was reported that the special committee had gone over the top, raising $3600, which is $400 over its quota. The workers are making a strong finish to put the town as a whole over the top. Anyone who has been missed and wishes to make a contribution should get in touch with Mrs. W. C. Newman, of Anthwyn Road, chairman of the United Campaign for the Borough.

Council Speaker

of Merion, vice president in charge of sales of the Philadelphia Electric Company, who will talk on "Utilities" at the meeting of the Lower Merion-Narberth Council of Republican Women at the Township Building, Ardmore, next Tuesday.

To Discuss Utilities at Council Meeting

L. M.-Narberth Council Will Hear George E. Whitwell Tuesday.

IS MERION RESIDENT

"Utilities" will be discussed at the meeting of the Lower Merion-Narberth Council of Republican Women on Tuesday evening by George E. Whitwell, a resident of Merion and vice president in charge of sales of the Philadelphia Electric Company.

The meeting will be held in the Township Building, East Lancaster Avenue, Ardmore, at 8:30 P. M. Miss Margaret E. Brusstar, of Bryn Mawr, is in charge of the program.

Mr. Whitwell, a native of Washington, D. C., received his early education there and later attended the Massachusetts Institute of Technology, where he was graduated in 1915.

He worked as research engineer for the Anaconda Copper Company until the world war when he entered the

Color-Photography to Be Men's Club Subject

An especially interesting illustrated talk on color-photography by Ernest A. Bailey, of Narberth, will be the feature of the special meeting of the Men's Club of Narberth M. E. Church at 8 o'clock Thursday evening, December 3, in the church parlor.

Mr. Bailey's thorough study of this subject and his enthusiasm makes this a most attractive offer to the men of the community. It will be illustrated with plates and motion pictures. An opportunity to see yourself as others saw you some months ago when you were unwittingly attending a certain memorable occasion in the town, will be presented. Come along and bring your friends.

Mrs. Minnich Injured in Auto Accident Sunday

Mrs. W. C. Minnich, of Moreno and Gulph Roads, Penn Valley, suffered a badly crushed hand with three fingers seriously injured in an automobile accident Sunday afternoon on County Line Road, Radnor.

The car in which Mrs. Minnich was riding with two companions, Miss Myra Gregory and Marie Lynn, was struck by a man in a roadster, so that both cars turned completely over.

Miss Gregory was badly bruised about the face as well as both of her knees, while Marie Lynn suffered from slight bruises and a number of cuts. The driver of the other car was uninjured.

Race Timer Receives National Publicity

Invention of Edwin Speakman, of Narberth, Considered for Olympics.

IS USED AT HAVERFORD

Edwin A. Speakman, of Narberth, inventor of the Haverford College Race Timer, has published articles recently in several magazines describing this new device. These descriptive articles are featured in "The Review of Scientific Instruments," "The Scientific Monthly," "The Atlantic Journal" and will also appear in several others.

National publicity has been given this new instrument for timing races which was described last April in this paper. Inquiries have been received by Mr. Speakman from Germany and a number of German magazines are to publish articles describing its operation. As a result of such publicity, the inventor has been asked by the Richard G. Badger Publishing Company of Boston to write a book on automatic race timing which he is now composing.

This device has been used in timing races at Haverford College and was demonstrated by Mr. Speakman at radio shows in St. Louis and Philadelphia. It automatically times races by means of a microphone and a light beam to an accuracy of one hundredth of a second. The Olympic Committee is to consider the possibility of using the instrument at the Olympic games in California next spring.

Application for patents have been made and reports from the United States Patent Office are of an encouraging nature, intimating that a number of broad claims are to be allowed. The General Electric Company has shown interest in the purchase of such a patent.

Several improvements are being made in the device so that apparatus of a simpler and less expensive design may be incorporated into the instrument. Haverford College will again use the device in timing races at track meets this spring.

Mr. Speakman, who graduated from Haverford College last June, is at present an assistant instructor in physics at Haverford and is also pursuing several graduate studies.

Elect Taylor Captain

Robert Taylor, of 512 Brookhurst Avenue, was elected captain of the 1932 Lower Merion football team at a meeting held Monday afternoon.

Worship of Beauty Urged by Schrepfer

'We Have Set Up False Gods,' He Says in Rotary Address

NEED MORE HUMANITY

Frank A. Schrepfer, Narberth Legionnaire and silver-tongued orator, was the speaker Tuesday at the Bala-Cynwyd-Narberth Rotary Club. His talk, "The Spirit of the Times," was a plea for the substitution of beauty for the worship of the machine type of civilization.

Mr. Schrepfer outlined the three values or qualities in life as those of time and space; those of the sense and those dealing with the abstract. Beauty was defined as one of the abstracts, the pursuit of which is difficult under present-day conditions.

"We have set up false gods," the speaker said. "For the economics which we worship as the significant current in our present-day life is nothing more or less than the great god Mammon."

To show the advantages of earning a livelihood by the sweat of the brow instead of by the economic structure of the machine age, Mr. Schrepfer pointed to France. In that country, he said, the fact that the machine age made no great inroads has put it in a strong position today.

"To confuse content and form is a fundamental human error," he said. "We need more of humanity. That is obvious when one sees bursting granaries, stores of gold and a surplus of raw materials in contrast to starvation and unemployment."

A talk in behalf of the United Campaign by the Rev. Robert J. McFetridge preceded Mr. Schrepfer's address.

The next meeting of the club, at which A. F. W. Vick will be the speaker, will be held at the new headquarters, the Overbrook Golf Club.

Forty Men Enjoy Open House at Bridge Club

Over forty men enjoyed games of auction and contract bridge at the open house of the Narberth Bridge Club held Monday night in its rooms at Elm Hall.

First prize in contract was won by J. H. Baker, with Charles Marshall walking off with second honors. In auction, Ted Atcherly carried off the first prize, and A. D. Wainwright the second.

The club, whose membership is restricted solely to men of Narberth or vicinity, now has 33 members on its books. Two new members were admitted on Monday night. One to three or more tables are in progress every evening at the club's headquarters.

White Cross Meeting Tues.

The Women's Association of the Narberth Baptist Church will hold their White Cross meeting next Tuesday at the church. Devotion will be at 12 o'clock, followed by luncheon at 12:30. The speaker of the afternoon will be Miss Elizabeth Vickland, of Nowgong, Assam. Miss Vickland is a very delightful and interesting speaker.

Local Movies

Street Scene at Narberth

Sylvia Sidney and William Collier, Jr., star in the Pulitzer prize play, "Street Scene," playing at Narberth this Friday and Saturday. Rather sad, but very much worth seeing; one of the year's best cinemas. For Saturday's matinee the feature will be "The Holy Terror," a thriller starring George O'Brien.

Clark Gable is coming Monday in "Sporting Blood," an excellent story about a horse, races, gamblers, etc., with splendid photography and acting. Due Wednesday is "Africa Speaks," an exciting talking picture of the wilds of the dark continent. And next week-end's attraction will be "Monkey Business," the Marx Brothers' latest fun offering.

East of Borneo at Egyptian

Highly thrilling is "East of Borneo," in which Charles Bickford and Rose Hobart face dozens of dangers, at the Egyptian Theatre this week-end. Added are a Benny Rubin comedy and a new football film of interest.

Ann Harding, queen of the screen, stars in "Devotion," coming to Cynwyd on Monday. She chose it for its whimsical comedy and Barriessue lightness of story. It is based on Pamela Wynne's novel, "A Little Flat in the Temple." Leslie Howard heads a splendid supporting cast.

Not to be confused with his latest comedy, which will appear here soon, is Eddie Cantor's "Whoopee," which the Egyptian will repeat next Wednesday and Thursday. So well liked was it last year that it is being given again for the benefit of those who missed it, and for those who have expressed a wish to see it and chuckle again.

Next Friday and Saturday's show will be "The Spider," a murder mystery in which an entire audience is held in a theatre until someone confesses. Edmund Lowe, hypnotist-magician, performs many interesting feats of magic and turns in a very capable performance, aided by Lois Moran and (in a brief part) El Brendel. Yes, there are pleasing touches of comedy in the film.

Men's Club at All Saints Will Aid Poor Children

Christmas will be more cheerful for many poor children in this section if success marks plans made at a men's supper in All Saints Church, Wynnewood, Thursday evening of last week. Fifty men attended the affair and will probably form the nucleus of a men's club sponsored by Robert F. Wood, Fred Walzer and William W. Heindel, whose purpose will be friendly gatherings every so often, of an interdenominational nature.

Immediate plans approved by the supper gathering call for a Christmas party to be held at All Saints Church Parish House at a time not yet settled, to be attended by the men and as many children of needy families as each man cares to entertain as his guests. There will be a decorated tree, candy, etc., and a gift for each child.

The children will be recruited from a long list the Lower Merion-Narberth police and charitable organizations compile each year, and will be selected especially from Narberth and nearby neighborhoods.

"Our purpose is partly sentimental," said Mr. Wood, who acted as toastmaster at the supper. "Not only are there many needy children in this section who would appreciate a gift, but we believe there are scores of men who will enjoy brightening the life of some child—or several children—by taking them to a party and presenting gifts personally."

This opportunity is open to all men; further details may be had from the committee in charge and will also soon be made public.

The man with the beard is the one who is never ashamed to wear the gift necktie.

Methodist Bazaar to Be Held December 5th

The time, Saturday, December 5th. The place, Narberth Methodist Church, Essex and Price Avenues. Come early and stay late. Luncheon and dinner served at a very low cost under the supervision of Mrs. A. J. Bawden.

We are all looking for inexpensive gifts and this is the place to get them. The following tables will give you a wide range from which to select. Mrs. Bailey will have a large variety of aprons. The candy table will be in charge of the Epworth League. The Men's Club will have a large assortment of groceries at chain store prices. Everything for the children can be had at Mrs. Ward's table.

A very unusual assortment of "Knobby Kraft" jewelry will be displayed by Mrs. White. There is a big surprise in store for young and old at the Fish Pond in charge of Mrs. Moore. Mrs. L. Wight will have a large assortment of blankets at reasonable prices and home-made cakes and pies will need no advertising. Give your orders early to Mrs. E. A. Lane.

Don't miss Mrs. Chalfont's table if you are interested in linen and fancy work and last but not least—don't miss the white elephant table in charge of Miss Strickler. This is an opportunity which you cannot afford to miss. Come and bring your friends.

$10,000 to Bryn Mawr

Bryn Mawr College will eventually receive "upward of $10,000" bequeathed by the will of Miss Jessie L. Louderback which was filed for probate in New York recently. Upon the death of a brother and sister the estate shall go to the college.

Mrs. Hope LeBarr Roberts Is Club Speaker Tuesday

The Woman's Community Club of Narberth will hold their regular monthly meeting in the Girl Scout wing of the Community Building on Tuesday afternoon. Mrs. Hope LeBarr Roberts, well-known lecturer on current events, will be the speaker. A feature of the program will be the group of songs, sung by the Narberth Glee Club, composed of the pupils of the seventh and eighth grades under the direction of W. J. Drennan, principal of the school. The time of the meeting is 2:30.

The tea given by the membership committee of the Woman's Community Club last Friday afternoon at the home of Mrs. Edward Larney, Braeburn Road, Penn Valley, for the new members of the club and new residents was a very successful and well-attended affair. Mrs. Larney and Mrs. J. D. Sutherland, chairman of the membership, were at the tea table. Those assisting were Mrs. Frank C. Stiefel, Mrs. Emma Kent, Mrs. E. A. Lane, Mrs. Albert Davis and Mrs. George Norman Gill.

Something to look forward to is the Christmas meeting of the club which will be held on December 15, when there will be a tree, Christmas music and a number of surprises. A feature of the program will be the presentation of "Solitaire," a one-act play, by the members of the club.

Donations of canned goods may be brought to the club at each of these meetings for the welfare committee.

A meeting for the organization of the gym class was held on Tuesday in the Community Building. Mrs. Suzanne Joret Gill is in charge.

Christmas Seal Sale Opened Thanksgiving Day

The twenty-fifth annual Christmas Seal Sale to be conducted on the Main Line by the Seal Sale Committee, of which Mrs. J. Emmott Caldwell, of Bryn Mawr, is chairman, began yesterday.

"Christmas Seals find more work to do this year than ever before," Mrs. Caldwell said. "Problems of unemployment and lowered living standards increase the incidence of tuberculosis. There must be no curtailment of united effort to fight this disease. On the other hand, efforts must be increased in times such as at present if we are to continue the progress we have made."

In Montgomery County during 1930 there were 188 deaths from tuberculosis. Two-thirds of these deaths were persons under the age of 45 years. Tuberculosis causes more deaths in Pennsylvania between the ages of 15 and 45, the most productive years in life, than any other diseases. No other disease claims as many sick victims as does tuberculosis. Because of long duration no other disease causes more suffering, poverty and actual dependence than tuberculosis.

The all-year-round efforts to prevent and cure tuberculosis, the control of which must still be based on accurate early diagnosis, and the perfection of treatment by means of the recognized methods, rest, fresh air and nursing care, are financed by the Christmas Seal Sale.

J. ROBERT MCCOY

J. Robert McCoy, a resident of Narberth for the past twenty-six years, died suddenly at his home, 203 Chestnut Avenue, last Thursday noon. He was stricken very suddenly, having worked all the day previous.

The funeral services were held on Saturday from the establishment of Charles M. Stuard, Ardmore, with burial at West Laurel Hill Cemetery.

Mr. McCoy, who was 58, was a salesman with the Yarnall Paint Company. He is survived by his wife, Emma K. McCoy, and a daughter, Mrs. George L. Riddell, who made her home with her parents.

But Who Pays the Hospital?

The community hospital stands near the top of the list of institutions performing the greatest service to humanity. No fluctuation in commercial affairs can permit of a handicap to its full functions, for human need goes on in good times or bad.

But the paradox which faces every hospital today is the increase in the need for free service and the decrease in the funds which make such service possible. The Bryn Mawr Hospital, charged with the duty and the privilege of ministering to the Main Line, is one of the many institutions wrestling with that problem.

The hospital has but two sources of revenue: paying patients and voluntary contributions. It is not a public institution in the sense that it receives a share of the taxpayer's money. Its affairs are subject to the same rules of income and expense as any other responsible organization.

Some interesting figures were compiled this week by the hospital, showing the scope of the free and part-paid service rendered during the first ten months of this year. The figures show that of a total of 15,288 visits to the dispensary, 3,996 visits were entirely free.

For the first 10 months of 1931—of a total of 46,312 patient days, 28,164 of these days or 60.9% were ward days, and of this amount, 6,144 or 13.3% were entirely free, and 16,179 or 34.9% paid only a part of the maximum charge of $4.00 a day.

The value of free treatment to ward patients for first 10 months was $73,520.00. (This is the difference between $4.00 a day and the amount actually charged.)

When it is taken into consideration that the $4 a day maximum charged ward patients is still more than a dollar shy of actual expenses, it will be seen that the cash contribution of the hospital to the needy of the Main Line ran well over $100,000 in ten months. To this is added the time and skill of general medical men and specialists, given unstintingly.

An official of the institution, in commenting on the figures remarked: "The hospital wants to take care of all charity cases possible, but if we are to function properly, we must guard against being imposed upon."

And this is a subject of interest to every potential user of the lower-priced services, and of employers of persons forced to use such services. For many people, possibly feeling that the hospital has an inexhaustible source of funds, fail to make fair compensation for the aid rendered, even when it is possible.

There are, unfortunately, too many cases of people who pay willingly for the other necessities and pleasures of life, and yet shy at the nominal charge made for ward service. There are too many cases of men injured in auto accidents who, upon collecting damages based in part upon the hospital expense, fail to compensate the hospital when that bill should be the first thought.

Much of this condition is due to ignorance of the workings of such an institution. People who would never think of begging from others forget that an obligation so shirked must fall upon a neighbor. The free and less-than-cost facilities should be sacred to those who have no other way to turn—and in those cases the service is granted where it will do the most good.

It should be the duty and privilege of each user of hospital service to bear as big a part of the expense as he can possibly arrange—for the sake of his own pride and his neighbor's need. And it should be equally the duty and privilege of those able to do so, to help make up the deficit created by this most necessary and valuable service.

Again this year Lower Merion saw to her sorrow the spectacle of the "under dog" taking all the honors. To our neighbors of Radnor Township, and to the football team which represented them, our congratulations! But cannot Lower Merion now fairly take the title of "under dog" and lick the jinx next year?

Four weeks to Christmas.

The Observer

An amiable citizen of the borough, comfortably relaxed after dinner, was chatting with The Observer one evening recently and let out a thought which may have arisen in the minds of other local men but remained unexpressed. "What has come over Narberth this fall?" he asked. "Everyone seems to be working on the assumption that the men don't want to stay at home any evenings with their wives and families. There seems to be a lot of anxiety about any spare evening time a man might happen to have on hand." Questioned, he explained that first there was the Men's Bridge Club with its own room open every evening, then the Narberth Players, who, so far as he was concerned, seemed to be soliciting masculine membership and, finally, that men's affair at All Saints Church last week. All good in themselves, he said, but how about the man who really likes to stay at home with his family, not occasionally, but just as many evenings as possible?

The Observer found food for much thought in those comments of his really amiable friend. One must be available and alert to serve the community in which he lives, but how far do any segments of the community, self-assembled for recreational purposes, have a right to urge a man, beyond a single courteous invitation, to devote his time to them and their affairs? How far is it reasonable to assume that the men of Narberth do not enjoy most of all the seclusion and comfort of those homes which they have established and are maintaining here, sometimes at great effort and sacrifice? What are homes for anyway?

The unseasonably warm weather which has prevailed all during November is not good for business. Ask the coalman or the clothier what he thinks of it. But it has played into the hands of the street work which the borough undertook to relieve unemployment. In fact, it has behaved almost miraculously. Street work of that kind is usually done only in warm weather for there are some of the operations, notably the penetration with melted tar, which cannot be successfully handled in frosty times. It was with some trepidation on that score, therefore, that the borough authorities undertook the present street work on November 1. Not only has the weather remained mild and clear, but Superintendent Suplee says that at one point on the Haverford Avenue job when a light rain would actually be beneficial, exactly the right kind of rain fell for exactly the right length of time. Even the weather gods looked with favor on Narberth's relief program.

The announcement in "Our Town" last week that there were 45 Narberth families actually in need of relief attracted much attention. It surprised the community and there were many people who were not inclined to accept that statement just because it had appeared in print. Discussions of cases immediately revealed an inevitable but none the less interesting divergence of personal viewpoint. There are those who would favor a policy of relief wherever want exists, regardless of the circumstances of diligence and thrift, or the lack of both, which had contributed to the development of that want. "We can't let people starve or go chilly right here in Narberth," says such a person; "we will give them something to eat first and investigate afterward." There are others who feel that the responsibility for the wise expenditure of community funds, entrusted to them for the purposes of relief, makes it necessary to investigate first even though children are pinched a little longer pending a study of the habits and attitudes of their parents. It is the old question of which is the more important, human beings or property; in this instance, money. Which is?

Penn Valley Garden Club Holds Monthly Meeting

The members of the Penn Valley Garden Club held their regular monthly meeting at the residence of Mrs. Gibson Bell on Mill Road, Wynnewood, last Wednesday. The increasing attendance at these meetings aptly illustrates the keen interest manifested by members to materially increase the charm of this picturesque community through added plant life.

After routine business had been disposed of Mrs. George H. Batchelder entertained those present with a paper pertaining to the most advanced thoughts in the care of house plants and their relation to the well-appointed home.

Mrs. John A. LaFore, president of the club, presided. She announced that on the evening of December 7 at 8 o'clock Mrs. Florence Griscom would address the club in the auditorium of the Montgomery Day School on Old Gulph Road, Wynnewood.

Mrs. Griscom has chosen "Birds" for her subject. Members are invited to bring husbands and friends. A silver offering will be accepted at the door.

Mailing Dates for Christmas Mail Given

If you have friends in China or Japan to whom you wish to send Christmas greeting cards, November 30 is the last date to catch the Pacific Coast sailings to the Orient.

Christmas mail to Siam should have been sent Monday, the 16th.

Narberth's postmaster, J. Bertram Nesper, has an alphabetical list of nations of the world, with the dates before which Christmas mail should be sent from New York. If you prefer to mail directly from here, an extra day or so allowance should be made.

The list starts with Aden (Dec. 1), Argentina (Dec. 4), Austria (Dec. 11), and the Azores Islands (Dec. 2), and winds up with Turkey (Dec. 11), Turks Island (Dec. 18), Uruguay (Dec. 4), Union of Socialistic Republics—which is another way of saying Russia (Dec. 11), Venezuela (Dec. 16), Virgin Islands (Dec. 17), and Yugoslavia (Dec. 11). You can't find Yugoslavia in the J's any more.

For France and Germany, England, Denmark, Ireland and many other European nations, New York's final sailing date is December 15.

Parcel post should be mailed at least a week in advance of the dates indicated for letters and post cards.

By the way, increased postage rates went into effect November 1 to some foreign countries, including the Bahamas, Barbados, Jamaica, Leeward Islands, Trinidad, Windward Islands, Suvarraw Islands, Dutch West Indies and New Zealand.

To Canada letters for the first ounce now cost 3 cents, post cards 2 cents, air mail articles 6 cents for the first ounce and 10 cents for each additional.

To Great Britain and Ireland letters now cost 5 cents for the first ounce and 3 cents for each additional, and post cards 3 cents.

BUSINESS BITS

Checks to members of the Narberth National Bank's 1931 Christmas Savings Club will be mailed early next week, according to Cashier J. L. McCrery. Initial deposits in the new 1932 Christmas Club are now being received at the bank. And there are a lot of free Christmas Shopping Lists, little booklets for the convenience of shoppers and givers, to save them mental strain when the head of the house asks, "Did you send anything to Cousin Emily?"—or the better half wants to know "Was Uncle Bert's second wife scratched off this year's shopping list?"

Two announcements of interest were made this week by Gordon Wunder, of the Wunder Battery and Electric Service, whose show and salesroom at 108-110 Forest Avenue is opposite the Narberth Fire Station.

Mr. Wunder has secured the exclusive agency for Narberth of the RCA-Victor radios, victrolas and records. He will display machines selling as low as $37.50, and records including home-recording ones and ones that play seventeen minutes and thirty minutes.

Affiliated with Mr. Wunder will be Robert Littler, Jr., who has for years carried on a radio sales and service business at the Arcade on Montgomery Pike near Meeting House Lane. Mr. Littler will be in charge of the Wunder radio repair, service and sales department.

Davis' Store in Narberth is offering some exceptional values in last year's toys and games at prices below cost in order to clear the shelves for an interesting new display. Many stores are commencing Christmas displays and newspaper ads this week, and residents are urged to avoid last-minute congestion in the city by taking advantage of parking opportunities and local merchants' friendly service, here and early.

Bala-Cynwyd's Garden Club has offered to business folk of the hyphenated community ribbons as prizes for windows with the best displays of Christmas greens. Recommended for use are hemlock, balsam, cranberry, "lady apples" and artificial decorations, in order to aid in conserving Christmas greens such as holly, laurel, ground pine, crowsfoot, evergreen trees, etc.

A new service for worn shoes has been introduced by John Drizin, whose shoe store is next door to the Narberth Theater. With a few other dealers in the Philadelphia district, Mr. Drizin has secured the services of a shoe factory in operating a "Shoe Clinic." Footwear that cannot satisfactorily be repaired by a shoemaker can be made to look as good as new by the factory's workmen and equipment. Shoes are lengthened, widened, heels and vamps corrected and shoes soled, heeled and refinished as good as new at regular repair prices. Doctors' prescriptions are followed correctly for feet that require special fitting. And the work is done promptly, usually in a day's time.

Sports Window Display

"Narberth in the Field of Sport" is the subject of a window display at the Narberth Coal Company this week. It has been placed by Ralph S. Dunne in order that residents may familiarize themselves with a number of the prominent Narberth men who have been active or are now active in the sports world.

The names include Wilmer Crowell, Harvey Harman, Lou Young, Albert C. Miller, Folwell Scull, Bob Town and Alan Cook, football; Lon Jourdet and Dr. L. R. Davis, basketball; Bill Durbin, Gene Davis and Jack Jefferis, baseball; Samuel Gilpin, tennis, and Ted Meredith, track "There are plenty more celebrities," says Mr. Dunne, "but our windows are not large enough for them all."

There are photographs, trophies, including humorous ones; footballs with signatures of players, used in the Penn-Cornell game of 1909, which Penn won, 17-6, and the Penn-Brown game of 1927, which Penn won, 14-6.

An additional window display concerns itself with photographs and information about this year's Penn team and statistics leading up to the Thanksgiving Day Cornell game.

For protection of deposits, some Philadelphia banks are sending armored cars to Main Line stores to forestall hold-up men. We noticed one of them (cars, not hold-up men) in front of the Egyptian Theatre recently.

Radnor Made Breaks by Team's Alertness

Many Players Stood Out in Game Featured by Fighting Spirit.

IOCAVELLI L. M. STAR

By TOMMY MACKLIN

Radnor High School invaded the royal domain of the Suburban football kings last Saturday afternoon and took with them the royal crown. It will not rest upon the heads of either team this pleasant autumn, but will travel to the wilds of Chester County and adorn the fair brows of the West Chester eleven.

Fair enough, but, as in seasons past, there will be another year, and if history repeats itself Lower Merion will again see fair days and reign supreme upon gridirons which have said farewell to football cleats till 1932.

The thirty-second meeting between the two ancient rivals was another chapter in a well-written series of historic football battles, and though one side lost to the other, there were heroes on each, and neither need bow in shame. Radnor rode high on a wave of breaks. Not breaks that should be termed luck, but on breaks that the eleven fighting warriors made by their alertness and football sense. When the breaks came their way they were ready to convert them into the winning points, and that is the trademark of champions.

The Lower Merion boys played their hearts out. They fought every inch of the way, and, futile as it seemed, they were fighting harder at the final whistle than at any previous moment.

Several boys stood out in the final battle of the year. Radnor proved a tower of strength on defense. Her line was a stone wall along the goal line. Her defensive backs were mighty tacklers when the job was up to them. But it happened to be a midget Lower Merion back who stood out in the game like a beacon light. Mike Iocavelli, sophomore ball carrier, certainly stole the show during the final half of that ball game. His individual work was an inspiration, and now that the season is over, none can be hurt by a little praise as a final tribute. Four ball carriers like that lad and it would take more than two Radnor teams to stop the Maroon.

Dominic Polilli, Captain Lachman Rinehart, Victor Newborg and Herb Thomas were in the thick of the fight all the time. They took plenty of punishment, and seemed to like it. Thomas, poor kid, not only took a whale of a beating in the ball game, but is destined to be panned by the spectators and bleacher directors because of his choice of plays. That is the price a quarterback has to pay when he loses, whether it was his fault or not. We could have called better plays at the goal line, too, but we are not sure we would have done any better in the heat of battle. Second guesses are always the better, but they're no good in the game. If his plays had worked within the five-yard line, then he would have been a hero. As it is, he was "out of luck."

Ten thousand (more or less) nervous, excited fans turned the Penny-packer Field into a bowl Saturday, and every one of them was a rabid partisan. The intense feeling exhibited by losers and winners of these annual classics is what makes them the great games they are. You might as well try to stop the tides as head off the Lower Merion-Radnor football game. Its roots are deep, buried in the hearts and lives of tens of thousands who have walked the halls in the two institutions.

Well, the sickness is over now. We sweat blood Saturday night after the game, but we are just as big a nut as some several thousand of you who wanted Lower Merion to win. And for every one of us there was a happy, cockeyed nut somewhere in Radnor who rejoiced because the Red and White was triumphant. There will be another game next year; new players, new prospects, new enthusiasm and new nuts. As a final tribute to the Maroon football squad, here's three cheers and a thimble for a darn good coach, and the grittiest, fightingest bunch of football fools in Pennsylvania, the 1931 L. M. team.

'Time Out'

By TOMMY MACKLIN

Statistics: Yards gained from scrimmage—Lower Merion, 400; Radnor, 96. First downs—Lower Merion, 18; Radnor, 4. Score—Lower Merion, 0; Radnor, 14. Ouch!

* * *

The Radnor busses passed the Lower Merion schools Monday with a big white banner saying: "We made monkeys out of Lower Merion." Cryptic rejoinder by a Merionite pupil, "We'd rather be a monkey and live in Lower Merion." Them's our sentiments.

* * *

The Adam talk to the football team before the game brought the tears to our eyes. It was wonderful, and how the fates could reward the team with such an undeserved defeat is a mystery to us. Adam and his team certainly didn't deserve that.

* * *

Lower Merion's record year in and year out is the best in the suburbs. Why make so much of one defeat? Radnor has beaten Lower Merion only three times in the last eleven years.

* * *

Well, let's draw the curtain now; football is over and there are many things to look forward to. Of course, if there is a postseason game for the unemployed, we want to lay our wager on L. M. to beat West Chester by at least two touchdowns.

* * *

Now comes Bill Anderson's anticlimax in the way of a basketball team. They've been practicing for several days, but we haven't been able to get excited over it. It is different now with the Radnor game over. Bill won't have much this year, but even with a little that guy is likely to win two or three championships.

* * *

It looks like several sophomores will have a chance to get in the games this year. Mike Iocavelli, Ray Stanley, captain of the Junior High championship team last year Bob Mathis and Jack Hinchey are all good boys with some experience. Not much veteran material around.

* * *

Bob Elmore, changing the subject, still acts in the capacity of being the 150-pound team down at Pennsylvania. He scored another touchdown against an opponent last week. This time Princeton felt the weight of his charge as the Penn boys won, 20 to 0. Bob was a good football player when he was at Lower Merion and made a good captain at the same time. He was too light then, and is still too light for varsity competition. But he makes a demon rusher in his own weight.

* * *

Brud Dothard and Allan Cook wind up their collegiate careers at Haverford and Lafayette this year. Mighty fine college football players, both of them.

* * *

Lower Merion Junior High won the Suburban championship last week against Upper Darby Junior High. Some of you people with livers that need a good shaking up, go up some time and see a Junior High football game and have the sleep taken out of your eyes. There are lots of surprises left in this world. There are a lot of people who would have liked to see Mike Zengel with that football last Saturday on the one-yard line. Methinks Radnor would

Villanova Rally Comes Too Late, Georgetown Winning

Villanova spotted Georgetown two touchdowns in the first half of their game at Villanova stadium last Saturday, then came back with a rush in a spirited second-half rally, scoring a six-pointer on a march of 73 yards and was touchdown-bound on the eleven-yard line when the final whistle blew.

The superiority of the Stuldreher-coached eleven is evidenced by the statistics which gave Villanova fourteen first downs to four for their opponents and 196 yards gained from scrimmage to 118. Villanova also completed seven out of twenty-two forwards for a gain of 119 yards.

It was the final game of the season for the Wildcasts who have a record of four victories and three defeats and two ties. Their wins were over Loyola, 32-0; Gettysburg, 13-6; Boston College, 12-6, and Baltimore 61-6. Duke handed the Villanova team its first defeat of the season, 18-0; Temple the second, 13-7, and Georgetown the third. Scoreless ties were played with Bucknell and Detroit.

Saturday's game was the final one for six members of the Villanova squad. They are Edwards, Terry, Conti, Beaudine, Dalbrida and Captain Ed Kobolis.

have caved in more than one spot as he would bend his shoulder to the charge.

Fighting Haverford Team Bows to Delaware, 31-0

Despite its 31-0 defeat at the hands of Delaware on Saturday, Haverford found solace in the game due to a 75-yard drive in the fourth quarter which all but gave the Main Liners a score against an overwhelmingly superior team. Brud Dothard, who played a bang-up game all afternoon for the Scarlet and Black, featured this advance to the 8-yard line with several long gains.

Delaware scored once each in the first and second quarters, twice in the third and its final touchdown in the fourth quarter was made as the result of an 80-yard dash. So alert was the Haverford team that only once was Delaware able to add the extra point after touchdown.

This year's Haverford team, despite its record of six losses to two victories, has displayed a remarkable fighting spirit. Its gallant last-period rally against Delaware was typical of its play throughout the season, though usually heavily outweighed and lacking in capable substitutes.

Orchestra Pleases
in Opening Concert

In its first concert of the season at the Ardmore Theatre Sunday night, the Main Line Orchestra delighted a fair-sized audience with its finished playing of a popular program.

A French group, consisting of Saint-Saens' overture, "La Princess Jaune," and the same composer's "Phaeton," together with Debussy's "The Afternoon of a Faun," composed the first part of the program. Adolph Vogel, the conductor, was recalled to the platform several times by the prolonged applause.

In the second half of the program Miss Charlotte Bentley, soprano, in two groups of songs, revealed a voice of charm and beauty. She chose Carpenter's "Depuis Le Jour," Sadler's "Il Mezzo Al Mar," "Come Unto These Yellow Sands" by La Forge,

The members of the organization are actively engaged at the present time in aiding in the sale of tickets for the movie benefit matinee for the unemployed at the Narberth Theatre Thanksgiving Day. The members are also actively engaged in the Red Cross and United Campaign Drive.

Field Fires Keep Narberth Firemen Busy

The Narberth Fire Company was kept busy this week extinguishing field fires. Early Monday afternoon a call was received for a fire on the properties of J. Bruce Byall, Richard T. Dooner and Dr. T. Grier Miller, which lie adjoining one another in Penn Valley. A little later in the day another field fire on the north side of Bryn Mawr avenue, in the Penn Valley section, required the attention of the fire-fighters.

These fires in the wooded part of that section are attributed to gross carelessness and efforts will be made by Penn Valley residents to see that they do not reoccur as the underbrush is destroyed and the woods spoiled for a year.

At 12:15 A. M., on Monday, a field fire at the corner of Wynnewood and Sabines avenues was creating such a smudge that it caused considerable discomfort to the neighborhood. Firemen reported to that front and extinguished it. The burning of leaves there took place again on Tuesday requiring the presence of firemen again, whereupon Fire Chief Noel notified the police officers on duty to see that the burning was stopped in the day time.

Tuesday afternoon the firemen were called to put out a field fire on Beechwood lane. There was no damage.
